ANNOUNCEMENT.

J. B. BAILEY.

W. S. Moore announces his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 7.

Election to-day.

The June rains are yet conspicuous for their absence.

The City Council meets in regular session to-night.

The new time table is in effect, but the trains arrive about the same as usual.

The President may finally be called upon to take about the same action in Colorado that Cleveland did in Chicago.

Roosevelt will be nominated at Chicago, but there is a big prize for the person who will name the nominee at St. Louis.

No more despicable crime was ever committed than that at Florence, Colorado yesterday morning. It would seem that the state of Colorado is rapidly approaching a state of anarchy. Strenuous measures are necessary, if the good name of the state is to be preserved.

AN ANNIVERSARY DAY.

To-day is an Anniversary day in our country's history even if it be not observed by the firing of guns and the shooting of rockets. One hundred and twenty-eight years ago to-day Richard, Henry Lee of Virginia offered his celebrated resolutions in congress. "Resolved that these United States are and of right ought to be free and independent states." This resolution was seconded by John Adams of Massachusetts, and for two days it was vigorously debated. There were giants in those days. Lee, Adams and Jefferson urged its passage and immediate adoption, while Dickinson, Lincoln, Rutledge and other members from the middle and Southern colonies protested. The resolution was however adopted July 2nd, and on the Fourth followed the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

THE COLORADO SITUATION.

Affairs in Colorado seem to be going from bad to worse. It is no longer a conflict between Unionism and anti-Unionism; it is the exponent of anarchy against those of law and order. And each day that the constituted authorities of the state allow such lawlessness to prevail, the arder will be their task of upholding the law and the bolder will be the perpetrators of such dastardly outrages as those which marked yesterday in the Centennial state. When human life is held so cheap that it is but an incident in the fight that a depot platform filled with laborers is blown up and flesh and blood are scattered like the winds scatter the leaves in Autumn it is high time that the law of the land assert itself. In occasions of this kind if the civil power be not strong enough, the military power of the state or nation should be appealed to. Force even on the side of law is not to be called on but in extreme cases, but the events of yesterday and to-day in Colorado are not ordinary ones. Partisanship should be lost sight of, differences of opinion on industrial questions passed for the time when the very existence of society is at stake in that locality. The strong arm of the law of the state may be not enough to quell this riot. It may have to be reinforced by the military power of the nation. If so, the earlier this force is used the better it will be for Colorado, and for the nation.

C. meats, loins, ribs, lamb and etc. I will guarantee all courteous treatment, prompt delivery and the best of meats. Thanking you for past favors, I am still yours for business. 833 1/2 C. M. ## Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Conchella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in case of cholera morbus. It never fails. Sold by all druggists.
